IN COLD BLOOD

Are the Negro Miners Shot Down by the White Men at Carbon Hill Mines.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 2.—The riots at Carbon Hill are still in progress, and two companies of state troops have been ordered to the scene by Governor Jones. There was more bloodshed yesterday, but it is impossible to learn its extent. Not less than eight or ten negroes have been killed, and possibly more. A number of white men who were concerned in the shooting are leaving. Trainmen who reached town yesterday report that seven negroes were killed in the cabin on Friday night instead of four, as at first reported, and that nine more were killed on Saturday night. All the trouble there seems to have grown out of the determination of the white miners to drive away the colored miners. The negroes, so far as can be learned, have made no resistance, and no white men are reported killed or injured. Eight hundred to 1,000 miners are employed at the Carbon Hill mines and only 125 of them are negroes. Nearly all reports agree that the negroes have been shot down without provocation. Dispatches from Carbon Hill at midnight state the miners have announced that they will surrender to the sheriff.

CAUGHT IN MEXICO.

James T. Henry, the Man Who Stole $1,500,000, Arrested.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The Daily Continent this morning publishes the following: The Pinkerton detective agency in this city has been informed by its agents in the City of Mexico that the Mexican police had arrested James T. Henry, who is wanted in Canada on the charge of robbing the Bank of Montreal of cash and securities amounting to $1,500,000. Henry's big haul was made on December 18 last. He was an exchange broker at Chatham, Ont., and usually carried a large amount of the bank's securities. On the above date he disappeared, and an investigation showed that the theft was one of the largest that ever occurred in Canada. He was known to have crossed the American border, but by the time Pinkerton's men were notified he was probably in the Mexican territory. In the early part of January the Mexican authorities were notified of the robbery and were given a full description of the stolen securities. All the banks in the republic were also notified. In the meantime a stranger had arrived in the City of Mexico and attempted to negotiate certain securities with the agencies of the London bank. They knew that the securities were part of those stolen from the Bank of Montreal, and the latter institution was advised of Henry's whereabouts. Detectives were sent after him and his arrest followed. The prisoner will start for Canada this week.

MURDER IN A SALOON.

A Desperado Blows a Peaceful Man's Brains Out.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 2.—John Stocksick was murdered late Saturday night in Rudolph Schultz's saloon by an unknown man who escaped. According to the story of a witness there was not the slightest cause for the murder. Stocksick and a number of laborers were seated in the saloon drinking beer, when the murderer and three other men entered and asked Schultz for wine. Schultz refused the request and a quarrel followed, during which the murderer reached for his revolver, Stocksick said to him, "My friend, you are doing wrong." No sooner were the words spoken than the bully placed the weapon to Stocksick's ear and fired, killing him instantly.

A QUARREL OVER A CALF.

Results in the Killing of Two Men and the Wounding of One More.

ALPINE, Texas, Feb. 2.—Fine Gilliand, who killed his son, was killed by Deputy Sheriff Cook and Ranger James Putnam yesterday, about twenty miles from Marathon. Gilliand opened fire, shooting Cook in the leg. Cook's and Gilliand's horses were both killed and Putnam's wounded. No house being nearer than fifteen miles to the place of the shooting, Gilland's body was left where he fell. Cook was brought into Marathon. The result of a quarrel over a calf has been the killing of two men and two horses and the crippling of one man and one horse.

A Murderer Confesses.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 2.—Waite Martin, colored, yesterday confessed to the murder of Alice McLeod, who mysteriously disappeared ten days ago. Heretofore he has denied all knowledge of the woman's whereabouts. Thursday the woman's body was found in the river and when Martin was informed of this fact he weakened. He confessed that he choked her to death in a fit of rage, tied rocks to her body, kissed her cold lips, and pushed her into the river.

Bitten by a Rattle Snake.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 2.—Edward Bosanquest, son of a wealthy London banker, was bitten on the leg by a rattle snake, near Dayton, yesterday, while hunting, and his case is beyond recovery. Evelyn, Walker, his friend and companion, carried him on his shoulder to Dayton, meanwhile endeavoring to suck the poison from the wound. It appears that Walker had a sore on his lips, and absorbed some of the poison. He became partially paralyzed, but at a late hour last night he was considered out of danger.

NEARLY A RIOT.

The Testimony of a Witness Comes Near Resulting in Blood Shed.

DECATUR, Feb. 2.—During the progress of the Crawford murder trial a riot was nearly precipitated in the court room. William Woodruff, a witness for the defense, was testifying to the character of Mrs. Mathias, Crawford's victim. The husband of the deceased was sitting near by. The witness said Mrs. Mathias had had improper relations with different men, with the knowledge and consent of her husband. Before any one could control Mathias, he arose and said: "You're a liar, —— you," and in the same instant raised a chair to assault the witness. Mathias is a powerful man, and it required several bailiffs to disarm him. This aroused the crowd, who cried: "Let him go! Let him go!" "Lynch the brute," etc. A hundred men started towards the witness, and several revolvers were flourished. Some time elapsed before order was restored. A warrant was sworn out charging Woodruff with perjury, and he was taken to jail under a guard, a crowd of men, led by Colonel Mathias's brother, having to be forced back at nearly every step.

"AN AGREEABLE DREAM"

The Pope Calls the Formation of a Catholic Party in France.

PARIS, Feb. 2 —The Figaro publishes an interview with the pope in which the holy father is represented as saying that if the conservatives of France saw that it was possible, they should establish something better than a republic. Otherwise they should adhere to the republic, which would then be what they chose to make it. His holiness believed it better to accomplish something fairly well than to tolerate things which were very bad. To support a good republic was to fight against the inauguration and establishment of a bad one. The formation of a Catholic party in France the pope believed to be an agreeable dream, but only a dream.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Brief Mention of the Accidents and Incidents in the Old World.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—In Greece severe storms and cold weather continue to prevail and numerous accidents on land and sea are reported.

The empress is quite ill with a severe cold and the reception which was to have been held to-day has been postponed until Saturday next. The court ball which was set for Wednesday has been also countermanded.

LISBON, Feb. 2.—The Oporto town hall was subjected to a two-hours' bombardment, and firing ceased only when it was found there was danger that the building would be completely wrecked. The dissatisfaction of military sergeants because of the failure to receive promotion at the same time with the juniors, is now said to have been the principal cause of the revolt.

A NAVAL ENGAGEMENT.

A Stubborn Fight Between a Government and a Revolutionary Ship.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Information has reached Buenos Ayres of another naval engagement off Ancud. The battle was fought between a government war vessel and a revolutionary man-of-war, the latter being defeated. It is thought that the ships engaged were the two vessels heretofore spoken of. The insurgent ship is the one which landed the revolutionary marines at Ancud, and the government vessel is the one which failed in an attempt to land troops at that port, and under cover of the British flag, which it displayed as a disguise. Communication with Santa Diego de Chili, and other towns which had been re-established, is again interrupted.

Serious Accident in an Ice Plant.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 2.—William Swisser was killed and John Kelly badly burned in the Ammonia ice plant of Tamm Brothers' glue works yesterday, located in the southwestern part of the city. Those connected with the works say that a large iron casting, the top of a boiler, was being put in position directly over one of the pipes through which the ammonia gas was being forced, so that the castings fell and broke off the pipes and that the escaping gas exploded.

LAID TO REST.

Amid Scenes That are Impressive in Solemnity and Awe-inspiring in Simplicity.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The funeral services over the remains of the late Secretary of the Treasury Hon. Wm. Windom, were held at the church of the Covenant to-day. The vast concourse comprised more officials of President Harrison's administration than have ever before gathered together in one edifice. The scene was impressive in its solemnity and awe inspiring in its simple grandeur. Gathered within the walls of the stately white marble church were the nations greatest statesmen, the most renowned diplomats of foreign countries, the highest officers of the army and navy of the United States, the most brilliant women of the social world, while mingling in the vast crowd were many whose plain dress bespoke the position in social life and emphasized the truth that "death levels all ranks." To a large majority of those present the dead secretary was personally known, his long public service having given him an extended and varied acquaintance, and with many he was personally, as well as officially, intimate. The hour fixed for the funeral ceremonies was 12 o'clock, but by 10:30 o'clock the avenues and streets leading to the church began filling with carriages and pedestrians, bent on the same mission of paying a last tribute of respect to the dead. Gradually the space about the church filled up and at 12 o'clock, when the remains of Secretary Windom were brought from his private residence on Massachusetts avenue, locomotion had become very difficult. Congress on Saturday adjourned over to-day to allow members of the respective houses to attend the funeral. The executive departments, district government buildings, postoffice and public schools were closed in respect to the memory of the deceased. The supreme court of the United States met and recessed until after the funeral services. The entire city seemed to be in mourning. The flags on the executive department were dropped at half mast about their staffs, the great building, the scene of the secretary's greatest achievements, and all its bureaus heavily draped in mourning, rendered the scene about the city decidedly impressive. The navy department, shrouded in mourning for George Bancroft, lately secretary of the navy, and the department of justice draped in mourning for the late attorney-general, Devens, added to the solemnity of the occasion. Indeed an air of sadness prevailed the entire city. The morning opened balmy and spring-like, and many friends of the dead secretary availed themselves of the opportunity of taking a last look at his remains between 8 and 11 o'clock, the hours set apart for that purpose. At 11 o'clock a private service for the family and intimate personal friends was conducted at the family residence. Rev. D. Hamlin, of the Presbyterian church of the Covenant officiated. Among those present at the private services were Mr. Wm. D. Windom, son of the secretary; Mrs. Windom, the Misses Windom; the President and Mrs. Harrison, Secretary and Mrs. Blaine, Secretary and Mrs. Proctor, Secretary and Mrs. Noble, Secretary and Mrs. Rusk Attorney-General and Mrs. Miller, Postmaster General and Mrs. Wannamaker, Secretary Tracy, Mr. Charles Hendley, Secretary Windom's private secretary, and Mrs. Lucretia Garfield. At the conclusion of the private services, the funeral cortege moved to the church. Before the remains of Secretary Windom reached the church the doors were opened, and those having cards for reserved seats were admitted. These nearly filled the edifice, and the space that was left was soon filled by the public. The church had been appropriately decorated for the occasion.

Upon the platform were placed a number of drooping palms, which was the only attempt at decoration, being in consonance with the well known simplicity of the Presbyterian faith. Banked against the foot of the altar were a number of floral pieces, the offerings of friends. Among the offerings were: A design from the plate printers of the bureau of engraving and printing with the legend, "Plate Printers-3 837," in violets inserted in a bed of white roses, fringed with ivy; a floral wreath from Mr. and Mrs Hitt; a floral cross from the secretary of state, and a shield from the office of register of the treasury. At ten minutes before 12 o'clock, the remains of Secretary Windom arrived at the church, and Dr. Hamlin recited the beginning of the burial service, commencing with the words "The Lord Giveth, and the Lord Hath Taken Away." The casket borne on the shoulders of eight members of the United States treasury guard, was preceded up the broad aisle by the members of the cabinet, who were the honorary pall bearers, namely: Secretaries Blaine, Proctor, Tracy, Noble, Rusk, Postmaster-general Wanamaker and Attorney general Miller. The honorary pall bearers were followed by members of the family: Mr. Wm. D. Windom and Mrs. Windom, his mother; the Misses Windom; Mr. and Mrs. Windom, brother and sister-in-law of the deceased; Mr. Charles M. Hendly, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanley Brown, Mrs. Garfield and the members of the Windom household, the President and Mrs. Harrison, Mr. Russell Harrison and wife, Mrs. McKee and Mrs. Dimmick. When all were seated the choir sang "Jesus Lover of my Soul," after which Dr. Hamlin read selections from the testament. The hymn "The Cross of Christ's Glory," was then rendered by the choir with excellent effect. Dr. Hamlin, without taking a text, epitomized his conception of the character of the deceased in the words, "Charming, affable, of unfailing courtesy, of quiet diginity, of beautiful refinement, a lawyer of wide reading and marked talent, a legislator of unswerving industry and undaunted courage, a prominent fancier of broad views and sound policy, of abundant aggressiveness and of safe conservatism, a man unsullied, a citizen of unflinching patriotism, a model husband and father of the tenderest manly love; a Christian of sturdy faith and sincere humanity—such was William Windom and as such all men knew him in his long and varied public career. He likened the deceased to Lincoln and Garfield in his early career and the energy he diplayed in rising above the surroundings. He pictured his early struggles and glancing at his entrance into public life, gave a succinct out-line of his political career. His course in the senate was touched upon, and Mr. Windom was praised as the compeer of Wade, Conkling and Hendricks, with whom he served. The speaker then touched upon the financial career of Mr. Windom, and he was classed with Hamilton, Gallatin and Chase in his conduct of the treasury, and his last effort in New York was characterized as a proper closing to a conservative career.

NEW YORK MOURNING.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—In compliance with special orders from Washington, all the federal buildings in this city are closed to-day out of respect to the late secretary of the treasury and they are all being draped in mourning and will remain draped for thirty days. Flags are at half mast.

KILLED HER CHILDREN.

An Insane Mother, Fearing Starvation, Kills Herself and Family.

HORTON, Kans., Feb. 2 —News has reached here of a horrible act of an insane woman who has been living on a farm several miles west of here. Mrs. Henry Wysong was left a widow two years ago, with three children dependent on her. The fear of starvation has so preyed on her mind that she attempted to kill he children and herself. The eldest, a boy of twelve, got away from her after she had cut his throat with a knife, and then ran to a neighbor's, giving the alarm. The neighbors hurried to the house, and found the place in flames. The woman had killed the remaining two children, and, after inflicting mortal wounds on herself, she set fire to the house. The boy who escaped will live.

Lieutenant Schwatka Still Alive.

MASON CITY, Iowa, Feb. 2.—The report that Lieutenant Schwatka had died from injuries sustained in his fall yesterday was premature. He was not as well last night, however, as he was during the afternoon. His physicians say that he is suffering from a severe concussion of the muscles of the back. He is also injured internally, and from this the worst is feared. His wife arrived this evening from her home at Rock Island, summoned by the false report announcing his death. Lieutenant Schwatka has canceled all his lecture engagements.

Fox-Drive Ends in a Fatal Accident.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The great fox-drive in this county yesterday had a tragic ending. Samuel Cornett, a young farmer, was engaged in the firing of an anvil, celebrating the victorious result of the drive, when it was prematurely discharged. A piece of the timber on which the anvil rested was hurled with great force against Cornett, breaking his jaw and fatally wounding him. He is suffering from brain concussion and will not recover. Cornett accidentally shot a neighbor while hunting several weeks ago.

His Nerve Failed.

KNIGHTSTOWN, Feb., 2 —An attempt at suicide occurred here late last night. Frank Ball, a young married man, repaired to a drug store, purchased twenty-five cents' worth of morphine and took the lot. On his way home again he changed his mind and started for a doctor. Dr. Barnett relieved him of all the superfluous matter he had laid up for the last week or so. Family trouble is thought to have been the cause.

Demise of Ex-Councilman John B. Krudop and Michael Bohen---Other Deaths and Funerals.

At 8 o'clock this morning, at his residence, 29 West Jefferson street, occurred the death of John B. Krudop, an old settler of this city. The cause of death was obstruction of the bowels. The deceased was seventy-three years old and came to Fort Wayne fifty years ago, since which time he made this his continuous home. He served honorably in the common council years ago and at the time of his death he was a member of the firm of Beaver, Miller & Krudop, doing business under the name of the Fort Wayne Lumber company. MASONIC TEMPLE.

Vernona Jarbeau in "Starlight" To-Night--Cleveland Coming.

Vernona Jarbeau will present "Starlight" at the Masonic Temple, to-night. As for Jarbeau she is enchanting—all vivacity and art. She appears in almost a dozen different guises, now in short skirts, now in long ones, and always captures the audience. Jarbeau always has a good company, but this season it is above the average.

No minstrel event has ever attracted so much attention as does the coming of Cleveland's colossal colored carnival minstrels, who will play here at the Temple next Wednesday evening, February 4. The "Minstrel Boss" of this country—W. S. Cleveland—has assembled in this company the "pink and flower" of all the genuine negro minstrel artists.

E. H. Sothern, favorably remembered here as "Lord Chumley," will produce his new piece, "The Maister of Woodbarrow," at the Masonic Temple Thursday, February 12

INTERESTING REVIVAL

Being Held at the Baptist Tabernacle--The Conversions.

As is usually the case on Sunday evenings, the Baptist Tabernacle, last night, was crowded, the auditorium, which seats 1,200 people, not being sufficient to accommodate the throng which came to hear Pastor Northrop on the pointed and personal text, "Prepare to Meet Thy God." For thirty minutes he drove home the truth, and earnestly urged the sinner to be ready for the great summons. At the after-meeting in the lecture room, about 300 were present, and at the close of a delightful song service opportunity was given to any who desired to become christians to manifest it. There were some fifteen adult inquirers, and the interest was marked. All who desire to talk with the pastor on personal religion have the privilege to night in his church study. Gospel meetings this week on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings in the lecture room. At the morning service yesterday eleven persons united with the church.

A RESIGNATION.

Frank P. Bissell Retires From the Pennsylvania Ticket Office.

Frank P. Bissell, who for years past has filled the position of assistant to John E. Ross, local passenger agent for the Pennsylvania company, has tendered his resignation. Mr. Bissell acted in the capacity of night ticket agent. He has under consideration a more lucrative offer which, if accepted, will require his departure from the city. Mr. Bissell is a worthy young gentleman and quite popular, especially so among wheelmen of Fort Wayne. Wherever he may go he will have the good wishes of a large number of friends. Orion Q. Ross, a brother of John Ross, and formerly day assistant, has succeeded to the position. He is a versatile and courteous young man who is on the right road to successful railway fame.

BIG TRANSFERS.

Mr. Barney O'Connor has purchased for $10,000 the handsome residence of H. J. Wilder, on West Wayne street. Mr. Wilder's business having called him to Chicago, his family will reside there.

THE GENERAL STAFF.

Enthusiastic Meeting and Election of the Knights of St. John.

The Catholic Knights of St. John held a rousing meeting last night for the purpose of progressing with arrangements for the coming national convention of the knights in this city next June. A form of invitation was submitted, read and approved, to be issued and sent to all the uniformed Catholic societies in the United States and Canada, which urgently requests their presence at the coming demonstration. After the adjournment of this business meeting Captain J. H. Rohan called the committee on batallion to order, and the following officers were elected for the general staff: J. H. Rohan, colonel; H. C. Graffe, lieut-colonel; A. C. Trentman, major; Edward Ehrman, adjutant; Dennis Monahan, inspector; A. A. Reinhart, paymaster; John Muldoon, quartermaster; Dr. E. J. McOscar, sergeant.

The installation will be under the direction of Col. Dunn and staff, of Cleveland, and the supreme commander of the Knights of St. John. The prospects for a big convention in June are flattering.

FIRE IN A JAIL

Causes the Loss of Three Lives--Fire in a Hotel.

FRIARS' POINT, Miss., Feb. 2.—Early yesterday morning the town jail was discovered to be in flames, and the prisoners were heard shrieking for rescue. The marshal, who had the key, lived some distance from the jail, and before his arrival the prison was entirely destroyed, and three negro prisoners were burned to death. The prisoners started the fire by trying to burn the door in order to effect their escape.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Feb. 2.—A disastrous fire occurred here early yesterday morning. A high wind prevailed at the time and the entire business portion of the city was threatened. The fire started in the basement of the Wilson Drug Co. Over the drug store was the annex of the Central hotel, connected by a frame bridge, which also took fire. The Central hotel was crowded with guests, among whom there was a panic, but all escaped to the street in safety. It is not known at present what the loss will amount to. The Wilson Drug Co. was insured for $30,000, which fully covers the loss on stock. The Central hotel was insured for $40,000, but only a portion of that structure was damaged to any extent.

GALLIPOLIS, O., Feb. 2.—The Betz Opera building was destroyed by fire early this morning. The structure was valued at $20,000, with only $4,000 insurance. The first floor was divided into two store rooms, one occupied by Martin McHale, with a grocery stock of $4,000, insured for $250, and the others by George Alexander, with a stock of groceries, $4,000, on which there was an insurance of $240. The names of the injured are: Sam. Dunlap, assistant engineer, fatally injured, (first report of his death was incorrect); James Sheehan, foreman engine No. 22; Michael Keevan, hose man of engine No. 2, and James Garrity, assistant engineer of engine No. 20. The three last named will recover. They were all crushed by the elevator giving away and falling on them. Wm. Wilers, manufacturer of fancy brass bedsteads, stair roads, etc., loss is about $25,000; the Sellemer Printing company lost about $10,000, and C. J. Cohen, manufacturer of paper boxes, loses about the same amount. Wilers' loss is nearly covered by insurance. The others were partly insured. The origin of the fire is unknown.

GOT DRUNK ON OPIUM.

A Woman, Named Jesse Wallace, in Police Court--Squires' Squibs and Court News.

There were only two criminals before Mayor Harding when police court convened this morning—a sort of poor business for the morning after Sunday. One was a young fellow named Franks whose offense consisted in having overestimated his capacity for drinking whisky. He was one of those fellows who imagine that they "know when they have got enough." He didn't seem to know yesterday, for he went on pouring the stuff down his throat until he became so drunk that the officers were compelled to "run him in." The mayor sent him to jail.

The other criminal that stood before the mayor to answer to the charge of drunkenness was a woman. She gave her name as Jesse Franks and said she lived in Ohio. She was a woman about fifty years of age and a dissipated life was written on every linament of her countenance. The charge "drunk and disorderly" was written opposite her name on the police register. She was arrested yesterday afternoon on the street, having been pretty hilarious in her actions. When she was arraigned before the mayor she said it was not whisky that had made her drunk, but eating opium. She made a pitiful plea, and Mayor Harding, realizing that she had suffered punishment already by reason of having been in jail all night, told her if she would leave the city he would not inflict any punishment on her. The woman promised, and was released.

In Justice Frances' court a judgment of $28 and costs was rendered in the replevin case of Horace Marriott against Albert E. Lye. Geo. H. Siebold was also given a judgment of $7.50 and costs against Otis C. Smith on capias proceedings. In the case of the Hamilton National bank against Milton N. Webber, the co-defendant, Mrs. Milo Ashley, files a cross complaint, and the case was heard at 2 o'clock, after which the case of Cartwright against Beaver was taken up.

In Justice Wilkinson's court Amanda Brown commenced a suit on a board bill against Geo. W. Shever as principal and William Pesse as security. The case is set for trial on February 6.

In Justice Ryan's court, A. C. Katt commenced capias proceedings against Max Nirdlinger on account for $6.25, and the defendant sets up a counter claim of $8. The case is set for trial tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Henry R. Minich was granted a license to marry Mary C. Gibson.

Mike Bohen, jr., the bailiff of the superior court, is absent on account of the death of his father.

In the circuit court Ella Leyton was granted a divorce from Timothy Leyton, and Rachel Kayser was adjudged insane.

MIKE WALSH RETIRES.

A Genial Hotel Clerk, After Long Service, Steps Down and Out.

A winning smile, a hearty hand-shake and a countenance that for nearly twenty years caused sunshine to radiate from behind the Aveline house desk, will soon be missed. Michael V. Walsh, who for the long period mentioned has been in the capacity of day clerk in the hostlery, has resigned, to engage in more lucrative pursuits. The only and original "Mike" will leave soon for Hot Springs in company with W. W. Rockhill, and, after a recuperation, will return to the city and enter upon the duties of a position in the county auditor's office. The familiar figure of Mr. Walsh will be missed by a great many who have been stopping at the Aveline, and especially is his resignation regretted by D. M. Miller and J. M. Moritz, his employers, who have these many years placed implicit confidence in him. Besides being a bachelor Mr. Walsh is the greatest wag within the precincts of Indiana, and the responsibility of many a rich joke and April fool caprice are laid at his feet. He is qualified to fill almost any responsible position where pen and figures are required and Auditor Glutting will find in him a valuable assistant.

SELECTED A SITE.

The St. John's Lutheran Congregation Choose a Building Lot.

Yesterday the congregation of St. John's Lutheran church decided to purchase three lots at the corner of Gay and Samuel streets for the purpose of erecting thereon a new church so that the congregation can be divided. To-day Frank Alderman, not knowing that a site had been selected, offered to give the church three lots in the Seventh ward not more than five squares from the site chosen, if they would agree to put up a church building on it.

It is confidently announced that General Palmer will be the United States senator-elect from Illinois before the week ends. The Farmers' alliance men in the house have been coquetting with the republicans, but, it is said, they have come to the conclusion that nothing is to be gained by this, so they will vote for General Palmer.

The committee of Illinois legislators who went to Columbus, Ohio, to investigate the charge against H. E. Taubeneck, one of the alliance members of Illinois legislature, who was said to be Rogers, an escaped convict, have completed their investigation. They found the charges untrue and will so report. Taubeneck will bring suit against those papers which published the libel.

John L. Sullivan, the pugilist actor, is constantly doing something to make the newspapers talk about him. His latest escapade was up in Wisconsin, on a passenger train, when he created a panic among the members of his theatrical company near Harvard on his way to Freeport. He insulted one of the women of the troupe, thrashed the man who protested, and took possession of the train. When the train stopped he drove all the passengers and trainmen from the depot platform. Traveling Passenger Agent Gibson, of the Chicago and Northwestern road, finally coaxed him into a private car and took him to Rockford to sober up.

This is ground hog day—an eventful day in determining the weather for the next six weeks. According to tradition, if the sun shines and the little animals see their shadow, they will loose no time in getting back to their winter quarters and go to sleep again and sleep for six weeks. If it is cloudy and they can't see their shadows, they don't return to their lodging, but go right to work preparing for the spring and summer campaign. The backwoods belief is that if the day is sunny it is a sure sign of six weeks more of the toughest kind of winter weather, but if the clouds hide the sun it is positive proof that the backbone of winter is knocked to splinters. The 2nd of February is known as ground hog day in all backwood counties, and there are few old hunters or dwellers in hunting regions who do not believe that the action of the ground hog and the bear determine the weather for the next six weeks.

WINDOM'S SUCCESSOR.

The speculation as to Mr. Windom's successor as secretary of the treasury still continues. The office is one of the most important in the president's cabinet and in a practical sense it is possibly the most important. Who will be called to the position is a question of importance and it is not strange then that immediately upon the death of Mr. Windom the people began to think about who the president might appoint in his place. A number of names have been discussed through the newspapers. Among them are Senator Ingalls, of Kansas; Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin; Charles Foster and Congressman McKinley, of Ohio; Stephen B. Elkins, of West Virginia; Geo. S. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, and General Tracy, now secretary of the navy.

Assistant Secretary Nettleton is now acting as secretary of the treasury under designation issued by the president several months ago, authorizing him to act in that capacity in absence of Secretary Windom. The president has conferred with Attorney General Miller and Assistant Secretary Nettleton with regard to his powers under the statute in making temporary provisions for the vacancy. The conclusion was reached that in case of the death of the head of a department the next in rank or official station could act for a period of ten days from the time of death and no longer. The case of Secretary Folger was cited as a precedent, but on the advice of the attorney general, it was thought best not to follow it, but to apply to congress for authority to remove the present limitation within which such vacancies can be filled. When Mr. Folger died Assistant Secretary Coon acted as secretary for a period of ten days under his regular designation, and was then specially designated by the president to act for a further period of ten days, thus giving the president twenty days for consideration of a permanent appointment. Under Attorney-General Miller's construction of the law, the president will really have but about five days within which to select his minister of finance, as it is not reasonable to suppose that he will give the subject serious thought until after the funeral of the late Secretary Windom.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Memorials to the legislature are commonly read hastily and referred to some committee with very little consideration. This was not the case, however, with a memorial read in both houses Saturday. The reason was that the power behind the instrument, and whose expression it was, is too strong to be ignored. This power was the combined farmers' organization of the state, together with the Federation of Trades, labor unions, and Knights of Labor. The associations named had pooled their interests, so to speak, and kindly catalogued their desires in order that no ingenious evasion of them could be accomplished by any method of legislative squirming. The catalogue of demands is as follows:

1. A fee and salary law, whereby all county officers shall be placed on a fixed salary, and required to pay all fees into the county treasury.

2. A system of taxation providing for a just assessment of all kinds of property to the end that all classes shall contribute to the expenses of the state.

3. That corporations be required to pay a tax commensurate with all of the privileges that they enjoy.

4. That the apportionment of the school fund be based upon the attendance.

5. Providing for the organization of a state board of arbitration.

6. That contract labor in the prisons be abolished.

7. That permits to hunt on farms be made in writing.

8. That the first Monday in September, "Labor Day," be made a legal holiday.

9. That the charges made at the Indianapolis stock yards be regulated by statute.

10. That public officers be prohibited from accepting free railroad passes.

11. That the contract for public printing be awarded to the lowest bidder.

12. That the dog-tax law be amended so as to require registration with the township trustee, and the assessment plan be abolished.

13. For the repeal of the law which permits the voting of subsidies to corporations.

14. That all contracts granting franchises shall be voted upon by the people.

Both houses referred the memorial to the proper committees after ordering several hundred copies printed.

THE WAY MADE PLAIN.

Dr. Wells Gives the Six Steps Necessary to Become a Christian---Sermon by Rev. Wagenhals.

The second week of the evangelistic meetings which are being held in this city by the three Presbyterian churches, and conducted by Dr. Wells, the evangelist, began last evening at the Second Presbyterian church on West Berry street. The large audience room of the beautiful new edifice was crowded to the doors and to seat the immense congregation it became necessary to place chairs in all the aisles, around the pulpit and in the rear of the room, and even then many were either unable to gain admittance or were compelled to stand at the entrances of the lecture rooms or at the exit doors.

The church is admirably adapted for such occasions. The seats are comfortable and the floor inclines towards the pulpit, thus giving all an opportunity of clearly seeing, as well as hearing, the speaker. In the pulpit, back of the ministers, Dr. Moffatt, Rev. Boggs, Rev. Leeper and the evangelist, were the chorus choir, who, assisted by the audience, did the singing. After the opening exercises, the reading of the scriptures, prayer by Dr. Moffatt, songs by the Haydn quartette and the choir, and the announcements for the week by Rev. Leeper, Dr. Wells arose to commence his sermon.

His subject was "The Way Made Plain, or How to Become a Christian." He took for his text, Acts 3rd chapter, 19th verse, "Repent ye, therefore and be converted."

In his twenty years of evangelistic work, he said, it had come to his knowledge that many persons both in the pulpit and the pew were stumbling over the terminology to be used in pointing the sinner the way to Christ. Many persons are enquiring how to become Christians. They can't understand how to come to Christ. They want to know what is meant by a change of heart and are asking Christians for instruction on this point. The doctor defined the terms used in his text "Repent" and "Converted," and said salvation in a nut shell consisted of repentance, and a change of heart. A change of heart meant not a change in that particular organ but a change in feeling, in thought, in belief, in desires, in action, etc., a regeneration, a complete turning around in the manner of living, an outward and an inward change.

There were six steps, he said, necessary to become a Christian. They might all be experienced at once, or the steps might be years apart, but when one has gone through them he may know that he is a child of God.

The first step is—Feel your need of Christ. Admit that you are a sinner in in the sight of God and be convicted of your sins.

Second—Be sick of your sins. Those things in life that you have followed in the past that are sinful and contrary to God's law should become distasteful to you and you should become sick and tired of your wicked life.

Third—Determine, God helping you, that you will at once enter upon a life of obedience to God and enter His service. This, said the evangelist, was one of the hardest steps to take. Persons who feel their need of Christ and who have become sick of sin, often stop at this and never go a step further in the way that leads to conversion. It may conflict with some pleasure, or some mode of life, or some business in which they are engaged. To illustrate this point he gave an instance in his own evangelistic experience. In a certain city, he said, a man, whose wife had been converted, came to him seeking the way to be saved. I pointed out to him, the doctor said, the six steps that I am going over here to-night and when I got through the man turned to leave the room. When he got to the door he turned and said: "Mr. Wells, I want to ask you one question: Can a man be a Christian and be in the livery business?" I saw his difficulty at once. He felt his need of Christ and he had become sick of his sins, but the third step was his stumbling block. He could not yield an obedience to God's law. I answered him: "Well that depends upon circumstances. How do you conduct your business?" The answer revealed the fact that the man kept his stable open on Sunday and hired out his horses to whosoever called at his his stables. I told him that it would certainly be sinful for him to let his horses and carriages out on Sunday for pleasure or any other cases except charity, mercy and necessity. "Well, then," he replied, "It would ruin my business, it would break me up, for Sunday is one of my best days." The man turned away and left. He could not take the third step. I do not know whether he ever became a Christian or not, but I expect he never did. The doctor then related another instance in his experience where a druggist had been led to Christ at one of his meetings and the next day hung up in his store a card on which was painted in big letters, "No grog sold in this shop. No cigars sold on Sunday." Determine, the evangelist said, in closing this branch of his subject, to yield an obedience to God's law whatever may be the consequence, even though it may lose you worldly goods or life itself. Better this than to lose your own soul.

The fourth step to be taken in order to become a Christian was then spoken of. It was to confess your sins to God and pray for pardon.

The fifth step, and one which was dwelt upon at considerable length, was, believe, that having come thus to God, that He accepts you. People may know this because God has said in His word that those who come to Him in the right spirit will not be cast off.

The sixth and last step to be taken was, be changed in your life. If you have been leading a wicked life, drop your sins—let the thief resolve to be honest, the drunkard to be sober, the untruthful man be truthful, the unholy man be holy, and the prayerless man one who will lift his voice to God.

These six steps, the evangelist said, was the plain and simple way to Christ. It was God's standard of a Christian life and he who falls short of it has not attained until eternal life. At the close of the sermon Rev. Boggs led in prayer, and, after a song by the choir, the audience was dismissed with the benediction.

This morning Dr. Wells spoke in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church upon the subject: "How May I Know That I Am a Christian?" This evening at the Second Presbyterian church the subject of his sermon will be: "Jesus, Mighty to Save." All the evening services during this week will be held at the Second church.

SERMON OF REV. WAGENHALS.

The sermon delivered yesterday morning at the Trinity English Lutheran church by Rev. Samuel Wagenhals, the pastor, was a strong, logical and eloquent defense of the Christian doctrine that Christ is the only salvation of the world. He took as his text, "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." The words were those of the Divine Master. They were spoken to all classes and conditions of men—to those upon whom sin had pressed its heavy burden, to the worldly who had failed to find in the pleasures of life that peace and happiness they sought, and to those who were bowed down by sorrow and affliction. "Take my yoke upon you," He had said, "and ye shall find rest unto your souls." The only way to salvation, the speaker said, was through Christ. There was a class of persons who seemed to think that their own self-righteousness would save them. They argued that their moral life merited from God the rewards He had promised to the Christian. This was a mistake. No person was free from sin. Even if they lived a blameless life in the sight of men, they were guilty in the eyes of God of present and past transgressions. This life might be moral now, but their sinful life of the past required pardon. This could only come through Christ. He had borne the penalties of the broken law, suffered for our transgressions, and made it possible for the sinner to obtain the pardon of God. Christ was the only mediator between God and man, and salvation must be obtained through Him. The speaker closed with an appeal for all to put their trust and hope in Him, and win eternal life. "Take my yoke upon you and you shall find rest." "For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light." The sermon was one of interest throughout, and many other points than those mentioned above were advanced and presented in such a plain, practical manner that carried conviction with their utterance. At the close the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered and many participated.

The best medical authorities say the proper way to treat catarrh is to take a constitutional remedy, like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Edward Duran, a prominent gentleman of New York city, is at the Rich.

SCROFULA

Is that impurity of the blood which produces unsightly lumps or swellings in the neck; which causes running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. It is the most ancient of all diseases, and very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. If you suffer from scrofula, try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, my little boy, three years old, being a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to feet. We all took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and all have been cured of the scrofula. My little boy is entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. B. REFRESHED FREAKS.

The Press Dined With Gump, the Thirty-Day Faster.

The "freaks" were out en masse to-day upon an invitation of Professor Gump, to dine with him at his last meal, prior to his thirty-day fast. The professor sat at the head of the table at the Aldine. On his right sat the snake charmer, who cast bewitching smiles on O. L. Perry, who occupied the next seat. Then came Wild Rose, who grew indignant because John Dougall, of the News, divided his attention with Big Eliza. O. E. Mohler, of the Gazette, was regaling the Tatooed woman from Dakota with accounts of his thrilling adventures in Oklahoma. W. E Davis, the dramatic correspondent, had taken charge of "Angola," the Gorilla, and was telling what he knew about dog fights, while the representative of THE SENTINEL was absorbing Col. Geary's attention with a new advertising scheme. The Journal's Freak, M. E. Burns, was on the scene, but owing to the failure of the Albino girl to arrive in time, he was too despondent to fully appreciate the luxurious spread before him. Otto Cummerow, the linguist of the Freie Presse, monopolized the time of Bass, the ossified man, by relating his knowledge of rheumatic ailments. Postmaster Higgins, the correspondent, was one of the party and as the steaming viands found refuge in his capacious stomach, he smiled serenely as he ejaculated, "Oh, what a time we freaks are having." Prior to the first course, Drs. Barnett and Heaton, who will have charge of Gump during the fast, made an examination of all the freaks present and pronounced their conditions normal. This was the signal for Lecturer McClure to shout, in stentorian tones, "Bring in the repast." And what a repast it was. There were all the delicacies of the season, to which the freaks did ample justice. Mr. Gump has already started in upon his fast and he claims that he will hang on for thirty days without tasting a morsel of food. If he does this Colonel Geary will hand him a check for $1,000.

SAW HIS SHADOW.

The Ground Hog Decrees Six Weeks More of Winter.

If there is any truth in the old saying about the ground hog and the weather there is no doubt but that we will have six weeks more of cold weather, for the frisky little fellow saw his shadow. He came out of his hole early in the morning and meandered about among familiar scenes until 11.30 o'clock, when Old Sol came out from behind the clouds. When the first bright rays lit upon Mr. Groundhog's back he scampered back into his hole and there he will stay for six weeks. So it can be put down as a certainty that winter will last until the middle part of March.

A BIG WEEK.

At the World's Museum Will Commence To-night.

Colonel Geary has arranged for an excellent show at the World's museum this week. A. H. Gump has entered upon his long fast and if he is successful in doing without anything to eat for thirty days he will win $1,000.

The other attractions are Prof. Peter Carmont Campbell, with his airship, Mr. and Mrs. Shields, the tall couple, and a first-class stage performance.

Miss Minnie McKilop, of Muncie, spent Sunday in the city, the guest of Misses Sadie and Laura Caldwell, of Harrison street.

IN COLD BLOOD

Are the Negro Miners Shot Down by the White Men at Carbon Hill Mines.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 2.—The riots at Carbon Hill are still in progress, and two companies of state troops have been ordered to the scene by Governor Jones. There was more bloodshed yesterday, but it is impossible to learn its extent. Not less than eight or ten negroes have been killed, and possibly more. A number of white men who were concerned in the shooting are leaving. Trainmen who reached town yesterday report that seven negroes were killed in the cabin on Friday night instead of four, as at first reported, and that nine more were killed on Saturday night. All the trouble there seems to have grown out of the determination of the white miners to drive away the colored miners. The negroes, so far as can be learned, have made no resistance, and no white men are reported killed or injured. Eight hundred to 1,000 miners are employed at the Carbon Hill mines and only 125 of them are negroes. Nearly all reports agree that the negroes have been shot down without provocation. Dispatches from Carbon Hill at midnight state the miners have announced that they will surrender to the sheriff.

CAUGHT IN MEXICO.

James T. Henry, the Man Who Stole $1,500,000, Arrested.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The Daily Continent this morning publishes the following: The Pinkerton detective agency in this city has been informed by its agents in the City of Mexico that the Mexican police had arrested James T. Henry, who is wanted in Canada on the charge of robbing the Bank of Montreal of cash and securities amounting to $1,500,000. Henry's big haul was made on December 13 last. He was an exchange broker at Chatham, Ont., and usually carried a large amount of the bank's securities. On the above date he disappeared, and an investigation showed that the theft was one of the largest that ever occurred in Canada. He was known to have crossed the American border, but by the time Pinkerton's men were notified he was probably in the Mexican territory. In the early part of January the Mexican authorities were notified of the robbery and were given a full description of the stolen securities. All the banks in the republic were also notified. In the meantime a stranger had arrived in the City of Mexico and attempted to negotiate certain securities with the agencies of the London bank. They knew that the securities were part of those stolen from the Bank of Montreal, and the latter institution was advised of Henry's whereabouts. Detectives were sent after him and his arrest followed. The prisoner will start for Canada this week.

MURDER IN A SALOON.

A Desperado Blows a Peaceful Man's Brains Out.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 2.—John Stockslek was murdered late Saturday night in Rudolph Schultz's saloon by an unknown man who escaped. According to the story of a witness there was not the slightest cause for the murder. Stockslek and a number of laborers were seated in the saloon drinking beer, when the murderer and three other men entered and asked Schultz for wine. Schultz refused the request and a quarrel followed, during which the murderer reached for his revolver, Stockslek said to him, "My friend, you are doing wrong." No sooner were the words spoken than the bully placed the weapon to Stockslek's ear and fired, killing him instantly.

A QUARREL OVER A CALF.

Results in the Killing of Two Men and the Wounding of One More.

ALPINE, TEXAS, Feb. 2.—Fine Gilliland, who killed his son, was killed by Deputy Sheriff Cook and Ranger James Putnam yesterday, about twenty miles from Marathon. Gilliland opened fire, shooting Cook in the leg. Cook's and Gilliland's horses were both killed and Putnam's wounded. No house being nearer than fifteen miles to the place of the shooting, Gilland's body was left where he fell. Cook was brought into Marathon. The result of a quarrel over a calf has been the killing of two men and two horses and the crippling of one man and one horse.

A Murderer Confesses.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 2.—Waite Martin, colored, yesterday confessed to the murder of Alice McLeod, who mysteriously disappeared ten days ago. Heretofore he has denied all knowledge of the woman's whereabouts. Thursday the woman's body was found in the river and when Martin was informed of this fact he weakened. He confessed that he choked her to death in a fit of rage, tied rocks to her body, kissed her cold lips, and pushed her into the river.

Bitten by a Rattle Snake.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 2.—Edward Rosanquest, son of a wealthy London banker, was bitten on the leg by a rattle snake, near Dayton, yesterday, while hunting, and his case is beyond recovery. Evelyn Walker, his friend and companion, carried him on his shoulder to Dayton, meanwhile endeavoring to suck the poison from the wound. It appears that Walker had a sore on his lips, and absorbed some of the poison. He became partially paralyzed, but at a late hour last night he was considered out of danger.

NEARLY A RIOT.

The Testimony of a Witness Comes Near Resulting in Bloodshed.

DECATUR, Feb. 2.—During the progress of the Crawford murder trial a riot was nearly precipitated in the court room. William Woodruff, a witness for the defense, was testifying to the character of Mrs. Mathias, Crawford's victim. The husband of the deceased was sitting near by. The witness said Mrs. Mathias had had improper relations with different men, with the knowledge and consent of her husband. Before any one could control Mathias, he arose and said: "You're a liar, —— you," and in the same instant raised a chair to assault the witness. Mathias is a powerful man, and it required several bailiffs to disarm him. This aroused the crowd, who cried: "Let him go! Let him go!" "Lynch the brute," etc. A hundred men started towards the witness, and several revolvers were flourished. Some time elapsed before order was restored. A warrant was sworn out charging Woodruff with perjury, and he was taken to jail under a guard, a crowd of men, led by Colonel Mathias's brother, having to be forced back at nearly every step.

"AN AGREEABLE DREAM"

The Pope Calls the Formation of a Catholic Party in France.

PARIS, Feb. 2.—The Figaro publishes an interview with the pope in which the holy father is represented as saying that if the conservatives of France saw that it was possible, they should establish something better than a republic. Otherwise they should adhere to the republic, which would then be what they chose to make it. His holiness believed it better to accomplish something fairly well than to tolerate things which were very bad. To support a good republic was to fight against the insurgration and establishment of a bad one. The formation of a Catholic party in France the pope believed to be an agreeable dream, but only a dream.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Brief Mention of the Accidents and Incidents in the Old World.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—In Greece severe storms and cold weather continue to prevail and numerous accidents on land and sea are reported.

The empress is quite ill with a severe cold and the reception which was to have been held to-day has been postponed until Saturday next. The court ball which was set for Wednesday has been also countermanded.

LISBON, Feb. 2.—The Oporto town hall was subjected to a two-hours' bombardment, and firing ceased only when it was found there was danger that the building would be completely wrecked. The dissatisfaction of military sergeants because of the failure to receive promotion at the same time with the juniors, is now said to have been the principal cause of the revolt.

A NAVAL ENGAGEMENT.

A Stubborn Fight Between a Government and a Revolutionary Ship.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Information has reached Buenos Ayres of another naval engagement off Arendi. The battle was fought between a government war vessel and a revolutionary man-of-war, the latter being defeated. It is thought that the ships engaged were the two vessels heretofore spoken of. The insurgent ship is the one which landed the revolutionary marines at Arendi, and the government vessel is the one which failed in an attempt to land troops at that port, and under cover of the British flag, which it displayed as a disguise. Communication with Santa Diego de Chili, and other towns which had been re-established, is again interrupted.

Serious Accident in an Ice Plant.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 2.—William Swisser was killed and John Kelly badly burned in the Ammonia ice plant of Tamm Brothers' glue works yesterday, located in the southwestern part of the city. Those connected with the works say that a large iron casting, the top of a boiler, was being put in position directly over one of the pipes through which the ammonia gas was being forced, so that the castings fell and broke off the pipes and that the escaping gas exploded.

LAID TO REST.

Amid Scenes That are Impressive in Solemnity and Awe-inspiring in Simplicity.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The funeral services over the remains of the late Secretary of the Treasury Hon. Wm. Windom, were held at the church of the Covenant to-day. The vast concourse comprised more officials of President Harrison's administration than have ever before gathered together in one edifice. The scene was impressive in its solemnity and awe-inspiring in its simple grandeur. Gathered within the walls of the stately white marble church were the nations greatest statesmen, the most renowned diplomats of foreign countries, the highest officers of the army and navy of the United States, the most brilliant women of the social world, while mingling in the vast crowd were many whose plain dress bespoke the position in social life and emphasized the truth that "death levels all ranks." To a large majority of those present the dead secretary was personally known, his long public service having given him an extended and varied acquaintance, and with many he was personally, as well as officially, intimate. The hour fixed for the funeral ceremonies was 12 o'clock, but by 10:30 o'clock the avenues and streets leading to the church began filling with carriages and pedestrians, bent on the same mission of paying a last tribute of respect to the dead. Gradually the space about the church filled up and at 12 o'clock, when the remains of Secretary Windom were brought from his private residence on Massachusetts avenue, locomotion had become very difficult. Congress on Saturday adjourned over to-day to allow members of the respective houses to attend the funeral. The executive departments, district government buildings, postoffice and public schools were closed in respect to the memory of the deceased. The supreme court of the United States met and recessed until after the funeral services. The entire city seemed to be in mourning. The flags on the executive department were dropped at half mast about their staffs, the great building, the scene of the secretary's greatest achievements, and all its bureaus heavily draped in mourning, rendered the scene about the city decidedly impressive. The navy department, shrouded in mourning for George Bancroft, lately secretary of the navy, and the department of justice draped in mourning for the late attorney-general, Devens, added to the solemnity of the occasion. Indeed an air of sadness prevailed the entire city. The morning opened balmy and spring-like, and many friends of the dead secretary availed themselves of the opportunity of taking a last look at his remains between 8 and 11 o'clock, the hours set apart for that purpose. At 11 o'clock a private service for the family and intimate personal friends was conducted at the family residence. Rev. D. Hamlin, of the Presbyterian church of the Covenant officiated. Among those present at the private services were Mr. Wm. D. Windom, son of the secretary; Mrs. Windom, the Misses Windom; the President and Mrs. Harrison, Secretary and Mrs. Blaine, Secretary and Mrs. Proctor, Secretary and Mrs. Noble, Secretary and Mrs. Rusk Attorney-General and Mrs. Miller, Postmaster General and Mrs. Wanamaker, Secretary Tracy, Mr. Charles Hendley, Secretary Windom's private secretary, and Mrs. Lucretia Garfield. At the conclusion of the private services, the funeral cortege moved to the church. Before the remains of Secretary Windom reached the church the doors were opened, and those having cards for reserved seats were admitted. These nearly filled the edifice, and the space that was left was soon filled by the public. The church had been appropriately decorated for the occasion.

Upon the platform were placed a number of drooping palms, which was the only attempt at decoration, being in consonance with the well known simplicity of the Presbyterian faith. Banked against the foot of the altar were a number of floral pieces, the offerings of friends. Among the offerings were: A design from the plate printers of the bureau of engraving and printing with the legend, "Plate Printers-3 837," in violets inserted in a bed of white roses, fringed with ivy; a floral wreath from Mr. and Mrs. Hitt; a floral cross from the secretary of state, and a shield from the office of register of the treasury. At ten minutes before 12 o'clock, the remains of Secretary Windom arrived at the church, and Dr. Hamlin recited the beginning of the burial service, commencing with the words "The Lord Giveth, and the Lord Hath Taken Away." The casket borne on the shoulders of eight members of the United States treasury guard, was preceded up the broad aisle by the members of the cabinet, who were the honorary pall bearers, namely: Secretaries Blaine, Proctor, Tracy, Noble, Rusk, Postmaster-general Wanamaker and Attorney General Miller. The honorary pall bearers were followed by members of the family: Mr. Wm. D. Windom and Mrs. Windom, his mother; the Misses Windom; Mr. and Mrs. Windom, brother and sister-in-law of the deceased; Mr. Charles M. Hendly, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanley Brown, Mrs. Garfield and the members of the Windom household, the President and Mrs. Harrison, Mr. Russell Harrison and wife, Mrs. McKee and Mrs. Dimmick. When all were seated the choir sang "Jesus Lover of my Soul," after which Dr. Hamlin read selections from the testament. The hymn "The Cross of Christ's Glory," was then rendered by the choir with excellent effect. Dr. Hamlin, without taking a text, epitomized his conception of the character of the deceased in the words, "Charming, affable, of unfailing courtesy, of quiet dignity, of beautiful refinement, a lawyer of wide reading and marked talent, a legislator of unswerving industry and undaunted courage, a prominent fancier of broad views and sound policy, of abundant aggressiveness and of safe conservatism, a man unsullied, a citizen of unflinching patriotism, a model husband and father of the tenderest manly love; a Christian of sturdy faith and sincere humanity—such was William Windom and as such all men knew him in his long and varied public career. He likened the deceased to Lincoln and Garfield in his early career and the energy he displayed in rising above the surroundings. He pictured his early struggles and glancing at his entrance into public life, gave a succinct outline of his political career. His course in the senate was touched upon, and Mr. Windom was praised as the compeer of Wade, Conkling and Hendricks, with whom he served. The speaker then touched upon the financial career of Mr. Windom, and he was classed with Hamilton, Gallatin and Chase in his conduct of the treasury, and his last effort in New York was characterized as a proper closing to a conservative career.

NEW YORK MOURNING.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—In compliance with special orders from Washington, all the federal buildings in this city are closed to-day out of respect to the late secretary of the treasury and they are all being draped in mourning and will remain draped for thirty days. Flags are at half mast.

KILLED HER CHILDREN.

An Insane Mother, Fearing Starvation, Kills Herself and Family.

HORTON, KANS., Feb. 2.—News has reached here of a horrible act of an insane woman who has been living on a farm several miles west of here. Mrs. Henry Wysong was left a widow two years ago, with three children dependent on her. The fear of starvation has so preyed on her mind that she attempted to kill he children and herself. The eldest, a boy of twelve, got away from her after she had cut his throat with a knife, and then ran to a neighbor's, giving the alarm. The neighbors hurried to the house, and found the place in flames. The woman had killed the remaining two children, and, after inflicting mortal wounds on herself, she set fire to the house. The boy who escaped will live.

Lieutenant Schwatka Still Alive.

MASON CITY, Iowa, Feb. 2.—The report that Lieutenant Schwatka had died from injuries sustained in his fall yesterday was premature. He was not as well last night, however, as he was during the afternoon. His physicians say that he is suffering from a severe concussion of the muscles of the back. He is also injured internally, and from this the worst is feared. His wife arrived this evening from her home at Rock Island, summoned by the false report announcing his death. Lieutenant Schwatka has canceled all his lecture engagements.

Fox-Drive Ends in a Fatal Accident.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The great fox-drive in this county yesterday had a tragic ending. Samuel Cornett, a young farmer, was engaged in the firing of an anvil, celebrating the victorious result of the drive, when it was prematurely discharged. A piece of the timber on which the anvil rested was hurled with great force against Cornett, breaking his jaw and fatally wounding him. He is suffering from brain concussion and will not recover. Cornett accidentally shot a neighbor while hunting several weeks ago.

His Nerve Failed.

KNIGHTSTOWN, Feb., 2.—An attempt at suicide occurred here late last night. Frank Ball, a young married man, repaired to a drug store, purchased twenty-five cents' worth of morphine and took the lot. On his way home again he changed his mind and started for a doctor. Dr. Barnett relieved him of all the superfluous matter he had laid up for the last week or so. Family trouble is thought to have been the cause.

THE ETERNAL GOAL.

Demise of Ex-Councilman John S. Krudop and Michael Bohen—Other Deaths and Funerals.

At 8 o'clock this morning, at his residence, 29 West Jefferson street, occurred the death of John B. Krudop, an old settler of this city. The cause of death was obstruction of the bowels. The deceased was seventy-three years old and came to Fort Wayne fifty years ago, since which time he made this his continuous home. He served honorably in the common council years ago and at the time of his death he was a member of the firm of Beaver, Miller & Krudop, doing business under the name of the Fort Wayne Lumber company. By his death a devoted husband and father is taken away and the community is bereft of a good citizen. The funeral will be announced hereafter.

MICHAEL BOHEN.

Sunday, after prolonged ailments, Michael Bohen died at his residence, 245 East Jefferson street. Death was caused by general debility, superinduced by advanced years, he being eighty-four years old at the time of his death. Mr. Bohen was the father of Michael Bohen, the bailiff of the Superior court, and he was also step-father of ex-Councilman Welch. He was an esteemed citizen and old resident. The funeral will occur Wednesday.

OTHER DEATHS.

Rosanna Ghoniard died at the feeble minded institute of spinal meningitis today, aged ten years, eight months and nine days. The remains were interred in the cemetery of the institute.

Howard D., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hunt, died of bronchitis, aged nine months and sixteen days. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon from the house, 76 Chicago street.

MASONIC TEMPLE.

Veruona Jarbeau in "Starlight" To-Night—Cleveland Comics.

Veruona Jarbeau will present "Starlight" at the Masonic Temple, to-night. As for Jarbeau she is enchanting—all vivacity and art. She appears in almost a dozen different guises, now in short skirts, now in long ones, and always captures the audience. Jarbeau always has a good company, but this season it is above the average.

No minstrel event has ever attracted so much attention as does the coming of Cleveland's colossal colored carnival minstrels, who will play here at the Temple next Wednesday evening, February 4. The "Minstrel Boss" of this country—W. S. Cleveland—has assembled in this company the "pink and flower" of all the genuine negro minstrel artists.

E. H. Sothern, favorably remembered here as "Lord Chumley," will produce his new piece, "The Master of Woodbarrow," at the Masonic Temple Thursday, February 12.

INTERESTING REVIVAL

Being Held at the Baptist Tabernacle—The Conversions.

As is usually the case on Sunday evenings, the Baptist Tabernacle, last night, was crowded, the auditorium, which seats 1,200 people, not being sufficient to accommodate the throng which came to hear Pastor Northrop on the pointed and personal text, "Prepare to Meet Thy God." For thirty minutes he drove home the truth, and earnestly urged the sinner to be ready for the great summons. At the after-meeting in the lecture room, about 300 were present, and at the close of a delightful song service opportunity was given to any who desired to become christians to manifest it. There were some fifteen adult inquirers, and the interest was marked. All who desire to talk with the pastor on personal religion have the privilege to-night in his church study. Gospel meetings this week on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings in the lecture room. At the morning service yesterday eleven persons united with the church.

A RESIGNATION.

Frank P. Bissell Retires From the Pennsylvania Ticket Office.

Frank P. Bissell, who for years past has filled the position of assistant to John E. Ross, local passenger agent for the Pennsylvania company, has tendered his resignation. Mr. Bissell acted in the capacity of night ticket agent. He has under consideration a more lucrative offer which, if accepted, will require his departure from the city. Mr. Bissell is a worthy young gentleman and quite popular, especially so among wheelmen of Fort Wayne. Wherever he may go he will have the good wishes of a large number of friends. Orion Q. Ross, a brother of John Ross, and formerly day assistant, has succeeded to the position. He is a versatile and courteous young man who is on the right road to successful railway fame.

BIG TRANSFERS.

Louis Mohr and Barney O'Connor in Extensive Deals.

To-day Louis Mohr purchased of C. A. Rakers 30 feet on West Wayne street adjoining Peltier's funeral directing establishment to the west. The consideration was $5,000. Mr. Mohr expects at some time to erect a fine building on his lot, but for the present he will conduct a sewing machine business there.

Mr. Barney O'Connor has purchased for $10,000 the handsome residence of H. J. Wilder, on West Wayne street. Mr. Wilder's business having called him to Chicago, his family will reside there.

THE GENERAL STAFF.

Enthusiastic Meeting and Election of the Knights of St. John.

The Catholic Knights of St. John held a rousing meeting last night for the purpose of progressing with arrangements for the coming national convention of the knights in this city next June. A form of invitation was submitted, read and approved, to be issued and sent to all the uniformed Catholic societies in the United States and Canada, which urgently requests their presence at the coming demonstration. After the adjournment of this business meeting Captain J. H. Rohan called the committee on batallion to order, and the following officers were elected for the general staff: J. H. Rohan, colonel; H. C. Graffe, lieut-colonel; A. C. Trentman, major; Edward Ehrman, adjutant; Dennis Monahan, inspector; A. A. Reinhart, paymaster; John Muldoon, quartermaster; Dr. E. J. McOscar, surgeon.

Col. Rohan gave notice that a meeting of all the officers will be held next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Library hall to make arrangements for the installation, which will take place in the near future, at Princess rink. The installation will be under the direction of Col. Dunn and staff, of Cleveland, and the supreme commander of the Knights of St. John. The prospects for a big convention in June are flattering.

FIRE IN A JAIL

Causes the Loss of Three Lives—Fire in a Hotel.

FRIARS' POINT, Miss., Feb. 2.—Early yesterday morning the town jail was discovered to be in flames, and the prisoners were heard shrieking for rescue. The marshal, who had the key, lived some distance from the jail, and before his arrival the prison was entirely destroyed, and three negro prisoners were burned to death. The prisoners started the fire by trying to burn the door in order to effect their escape.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 2.—The storage warehouse of Alexander A. Selkirk, at No. 12 North Seventh street, together with contents, was destroyed by fire early this morning. Loss about $15,000; insurance, $5,000.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Feb. 2.—A disastrous fire occurred here early yesterday morning. A high wind prevailed at the time and the entire business portion of the city was threatened. The fire started in the basement of the Wilson Drug Co. Over the drug store was the annex of the Central hotel, connected by a frame bridge, which also took fire. The Central hotel was crowded with guests, among whom there was a panic, but all escaped to the street in safety. It is not known at present what the loss will amount to. The Wilson Drug Co. was insured for $30,000, which fully covers the loss on stock. The Central hotel was insured for $40,000, but only a portion of that structure was damaged to any extent.

GALLIPOLIS, O., Feb. 2.—The Betz Opera building was destroyed by fire early this morning. The structure was valued at $20,000, with only $4,000 insurance. The first floor was divided into two store rooms, one occupied by Martin McHale, with a grocery stock of $4,000, insured for $280, and the others by George Alexander, with a stock of groceries, $4,000, on which there was an insurance of $240. The Gibney, Gordon and Gibney company gave their last performance in the house Saturday night, leaving their baggage and valuables in trunks, which were all lost.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 2.—A fire in Wilers building on Fifth street early this morning caused a loss of $35,000. Engineer Dunlay is reported killed and several firemen were injured by the falling of heavy crane.

The names of the injured are: Sam. Dunlap, assistant engineer, fatally injured, (first report of his death was incorrect); James Sheehan, foreman engine No. 22; Michael Keevan, hose man of engine No. 2, and James Garrity, assistant engineer of engine No. 20. The three last named will recover. They were all crushed by the elevator giving away and falling on them. Wm. Wilers, manufacturer of fancy brass bedsteads, stair rods, etc., loss is about $25,000; the Bethemor Printing company lost about $10,000, and C. J. Cohen, manufacturer of paper boxes, loses about the same amount. Wilers' loss is nearly covered by insurance. The others were partly insured. The origin of the fire is unknown.

GOT DRUNK ON OPIUM.

A Woman, Named Jesse Wallace, in Police Court—Squires' Squibs and Court News.

There were only two criminals before Mayor Harding when police court convened this morning—a sort of poor business for the morning after Sunday. One was a young fellow named Franks whose offense consisted in having overestimated his capacity for drinking whisky. He was one of those fellows who imagine that they "know when they have got enough." He didn't seem to know yesterday, for he went on pouring the stuff down his throat until he became so drunk that the officers were compelled to "run him in." The mayor sent him to jail.

The other criminal that stood before the mayor to answer to the charge of drunkenness was a woman. She gave her name as Jesse Franks and said she lived in Ohio. She was a woman about fifty years of age and a dissipated life was written on every lineament of her countenance. The charge "drunk and disorderly" was written opposite her name on the police register. She was arrested yesterday afternoon on the street, having been pretty bilarious in her actions. When she was arraigned before the mayor she said it was not whisky that had made her drunk, but eating opium. She made a pitiful plea, and Mayor Harding, realising that she had suffered punishment already by reason of having been in jail all night, told her if she would leave the city he would not inflict any punishment on her. The woman promised, and was released.

In Justice Frances' court a judgment of $28 and costs was rendered in the replevin cause of Horace Marriott against Albert E. Lye. Geo. H. Siebold was also given a judgment of $7.50 and costs against Otis C. Smith on capias proceedings. In the case of the Hamilton National bank against Milton N. Webber, the co-defendant, Mrs. Milo Ashley, files a cross complaint, and the case was heard at 2 o'clock, after which the case of Cartwright against Beaver was taken up.

In Justice Wilkinson's court Amanda Brown commenced a suit on a bond bill against Geo. W. Shever as principal and William Pease as security. The case is set for trial on February 6.

In Justice Ryan's court, A. C. Katt commenced capias proceedings against Max Nirdlinger on account for $6.25, and the defendant sets up a counter claim of $8. The case is set for trial tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Henry R. Minich was granted a license to marry Mary C. Gibson.

Mike Bohen, jr., the bailiff of the superior court, is absent on account of the death of his father.

In the circuit court Ella Leyton was granted a divorce from Timothy Leyton, and Rachel Rayner was adjudged insane.

MIKE WALSH RETIRES.

A winning smile, a hearty hand-shake and a countenance that for nearly twenty years caused sunshine to radiate from behind the Aveline house desk, will soon be missed. Michael V. Walsh, who for the long period mentioned, both in the capacity of day clerk in these matters, has resigned, to engage in more lucrative pursuits. The only and original "Mike" will leave soon for Hot Springs in company with W. W. Rockhill, and, after a recuperation, will return to the city and enter upon the duties of a position in the county auditor's office. The familiar figure of Mr. Walsh will be missed by a great many who have been stopping at the Aveline, and especially is his resignation regretted by D. M. Miller and J. M. Moritz, his employers, who have these many years placed implicit confidence in him. Besides being a bachelor Mr. Walsh is the greatest wag within the precincts of Indiana, and the responsibility of many a rich joke and April fool caprice are laid at his feet. He is qualified to fill almost any responsible position where pen and figures are required and Auditor Glutting will find in him a valuable assistant.

It is confidently announced that General Palmer will be the United States senator-elect from Illinois before the week ends. The Farmers' alliance men in the house have been coquetting with the republicans, but, it is said, they have come to the conclusion that nothing is to be gained by this, so they will vote for General Palmer.

The committee of Illinois legislators who went to Columbus, Ohio, to investigate the charge against H. E. Taubeneck, one of the alliance members of Illinois legislature, who was said to be Rogers, an escaped convict, have completed their investigation. They found the charges untrue and will so report. Taubeneck will bring suit against those papers which published the libel.

John L. Sullivan, the pugilist actor, is constantly doing something to make the newspapers talk about him. His latest escapade was up in Wisconsin, on a passenger train, when he created a panic among the members of his theatrical company near Harvard on his way to Freeport. He insulted one of the women of the troupe, thrashed the man who protested, and took possession of the train. When the train stopped he drove all the passengers and trainmen from the depot platform. Traveling Passenger Agent Gibson, of the Chicago and Northwestern road, finally coaxed him into a private car and took him to Rockford to sober up.

This is ground hog day—an essential day in determining the weather for the next six weeks. According to tradition, if the sun shines and the little animals see their shadow, they will loose no time in getting back to their winter quarters and go to sleep again and sleep for six weeks. If it is cloudy and they can't see their shadows, they don't return to their lodging, but go right to work preparing for the spring and summer campaign. The backwoods belief is that if the day is sunny it is a sure sign of six weeks more of the toughest kind of winter weather, but if the clouds hide the sun it is positive proof that the backbone of winter is knocked to splinters. The 2nd of February is known as ground hog day in all backwood countries, and there are few old hunters or dwellers in hunting regions who do not believe that the action of the ground hog and the bear determine the weather for the next six weeks.

WINDOM'S SUCCESSOR.

The speculation as to Mr. Windom's successor as secretary of the treasury still continues. The office is one of the most important in the president's cabinet and in a practical sense it is possibly the most important. Who will be called to the position is a question of importance and it is not strange then that immediately upon the death of Mr. Windom the people began to think about who the president might appoint in his place. A number of names have been discussed through the newspapers. Among them are Senator Ingalls, of Kansas; Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin; Charles Foster and Congressman McKinley, of Ohio; Stephen B. Elkins, of West Virginia; Geo. S. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, and General Tracy, now secretary of the navy.

Assistant Secretary Nettleton is now acting as secretary of the treasury under designation issued by the president several months ago, authorizing him to act in that capacity in absence of Secretary Windom. The president has conferred with Attorney General Miller and Assistant Secretary Nettleton with regard to his powers under the statute in making temporary provisions for the vacancy. The conclusion was reached that in case of the death of the head of a department the next in rank or official station could act for a period of ten days from the time of death and no longer. The case of Secretary Folger was cited as a precedent, but on the advice of the attorney general, it was thought best not to follow it, but to apply to congress for authority to remove the present limitation within which such vacancies can be filled. When Mr. Folger died Assistant Secretary Coon acted as secretary for a period of ten days under his regular designation, and was then specially designated by the president to act for a further period of ten days, thus giving the president twenty days for consideration of a permanent appointment. Under Attorney-General Miller's construction of the law, the president will really have but about five days within which to select his minister of finance, as it is not reasonable to suppose that he will give the subject serious thought until after the funeral of the late Secretary Windom.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Memorials to the legislature are commonly read hastily and referred to some committee with very little consideration. This was not the case, however, with a memorial read in both houses Saturday. The reason was that the power behind the instrument, and whose expression it was, is too strong to be ignored. This power was the combined farmers' organization of the state, together with the Federation of Trades, labor unions, and Knights of Labor. The associations named had pooled their interests, so to speak, and kindly catalogued their desires in order that no ingenious evasion of them could be accomplished by any method of legislative squirming. The catalogue of demands is as follows:

1. A fee and salary law, whereby all county officers shall be placed on a fixed salary, and required to pay all fees into the county treasury.

2. A system of taxation providing for a just assessment of all kinds of property to the end that all classes shall contribute to the expenses of the state.

3. That corporations be required to pay a tax commensurate with all of the privileges that they enjoy.

4. That the apportionment of the school fund be based upon the attendance.

5. Providing for the organization of a state board of arbitration.

6. That contract labor in the prisons be abolished.

7. That permits to hunt on farms be made in writing.

8. That the first Monday in September, "Labor Day," be made a legal holiday.

9. That the charges made at the Indianapolis stock yards be regulated by statute.

10. That public officers be prohibited from accepting free railroad passes.

11. That the contract for public printing be awarded to the lowest bidder.

12. That the dog tax law be amended so as to require registration with the township trustee, and the assessment plan be abolished.

13. For the repeal of the law which permits the voting of subsidies to corporations.

14. That all contracts granting franchises shall be voted upon by the people.

Both houses referred the memorial to the proper committees after ordering several hundred copies printed.

THE WAY MADE PLAIN.

Dr. Wells Gives the Six Steps Necessary to Become a Christian—Sermon by Rev. Wagenhals.

The second week of the evangelistic meetings which are being held in this city by the three Presbyterian churches, and conducted by Dr. Wells, the evangelist, began last evening at the Second Presbyterian church on West Berry street. The large audience room of the beautiful new edifice was crowded to the doors and to seat the immense congregation it became necessary to place chairs in all the aisles, around the pulpit and in the rear of the room, and even then many were either unable to gain admittance or were compelled to stand at the entrances of the lecture rooms or at the exit doors.

The church is admirably adapted for such occasions. The seats are comfortable and the floor inclines towards the pulpit, thus giving all an opportunity of clearly seeing, as well as hearing, the speaker. In the pulpit, back of the ministers, Dr. Moffatt, Rev. Boggs, Rev. Leeper and the evangelist, were the chorus choir, who, assisted by the audience, did the singing. After the opening exercises, the reading of the scriptures, prayer by Dr. Moffatt, songs by the Haydn quartette and the choir, and the announcements for the week by Rev. Leeper, Dr. Wells arose to commence his sermon.

His subject was "The Way Made Plain, or How to Become a Christian." He took for his text, Acts 3rd chapter, 19th verse, "Repent ye, therefore and be converted."

In his twenty years of evangelistic work, he said, it had come to his knowledge that many persons both in the pulpit and the pew were stumbling over the terminology to be used in pointing the sinner the way to Christ. Many persons are enquiring how to become Christians. They can't understand how to come to Christ. They want to know what is meant by a change of heart and are asking Christians for instruction on this point. The doctor defined the terms used in his text "Repent" and "Converted," and said salvation in a nut shell consisted of repentance, and a change of heart. A change of heart meant not a change in that particular organ but a change in feeling, in thought, in belief, in desires, in action, etc., a regeneration, a complete turning around in the manner of living, an outward and an inward change.

There were six steps, he said, necessary to become a Christian. They might all be experienced at once, or the steps might be years apart, but when one has gone through them he may know that he is a child of God.

The first step is—Feel your need of Christ. Admit that you are a sinner in the sight of God and be convicted of your sins.

Second—Be sick of your sins. Those things in life that you have followed in the past that are sinful and contrary to God's law should become distasteful to you and you should become sick and tired of your wicked life.

Third—Determine, God helping you, that you will at once enter upon a life of obedience to God and enter His service. This, said the evangelist, was one of the hardest steps to take. Persons who feel their need of Christ and who have become sick of sin, often stop at this and never go a step further in the way that leads to conversion. It may conflict with some pleasure, or some mode of life, or some business in which they are engaged. To illustrate this point he gave an instance in his own evangelistic experience. In a certain city, he said, a man, whose wife had been converted, came to him seeking the way to be saved. I pointed out to him, the doctor said, the six steps that I am going over here to-night and when I got through the man turned to leave the room. When he got to the door he turned and said: "Mr. Wells, I want to ask you one question: Can a man be a Christian and be in the livery business?" I saw his difficulty at once. He felt his need of Christ and he had become sick of his sins, but the third step was his stumbling block. He could not yield an obedience to God's law. I answered him: "Well that depends upon circumstances. How do you conduct your business?" The answer revealed the fact that the man kept his stable open on Sunday and hired out his horses to whomsoever called at his his stables. I told him that it would certainly be sinful for him to let his horses and carriages out on Sunday for pleasure or any other cases except charity, mercy and necessity. "Well, then," he replied, "it would ruin my business, it would break me up, for Sunday is one of my best days." The man turned away and left. He could not take the third step. I do not know whether he ever became a Christian or not, but I expect he never did. The doctor then related another instance in his experience where a druggist had been led to Christ at one of his meetings and the next day hung up in his store a card on which was painted in big letters, "No grog sold in this shop. No cigars sold on Sunday." Determine, the evangelist said, in closing this branch of his subject, to yield an obedience to God's law whatever may be the consequence, even though it may lose you worldly goods or life itself. Better this than to lose your own soul.

The fourth step to be taken in order to become a Christian was then spoken of. It was to confess your sins to God and pray for pardon.

The fifth step, and one which was dwelt upon at considerable length, was, believe, that having come thus to God, that He accepts you. People may know this because God has said in His word that those who come to Him in the right spirit will not be cast off.

The sixth and last step to be taken was, be changed in your life. If you have been leading a wicked life, drop your sins—let the thief resolve to be honest, the drunkard to be sober, the untruthful man be truthful, the unholy man be holy, and the prayerless man one who will lift his voice to God.

These six steps, the evangelist said, was the plain and simple way to Christ. It was God's standard of a Christian life and he who falls short of it has not attained until eternal life. At the close of the sermon Rev. Boggs led in prayer, and, after a song by the choir, the audience was dismissed with the benediction.

This morning Dr. Wells spoke in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church upon the subject: "How May I Know That I Am a Christian?" This evening at the Second Presbyterian church the subject of his sermon will be: "Jesus, Mighty to Save." All the evening services during this week will be held at the Second church.

SERMON OF REV. WAGENHALS.

The sermon delivered yesterday morning at the Trinity English Lutheran church by Rev. Samuel Wagenhals, the pastor, was a strong, logical and eloquent defense of the Christian doctrine that Christ is the only salvation of the world. He took as his text, "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." The words were those of the Divine Master. They were spoken to all classes and conditions of men—to those upon whom sin had pressed its heavy burden, to the worldly who had failed to find in the pleasures of life that peace and happiness they sought, and to those who were bowed down by sorrow and affliction. "Take my yoke upon you," He had said, "and ye shall find rest unto your souls." The only way to salvation, the speaker said, was through Christ. There was a class of persons who seemed to think that their own self-righteousness would save them. They argued that their moral life merited from God the rewards He had promised to the Christian. This was a mistake. No person was free from sin. Even if they lived a blameless life in the sight of men, they were guilty in the eyes of God of present and past transgressions. This life might be moral now, but their sinful life of the past required pardon. This could only come through Christ. He had borne the penalties of the broken law, suffered for our transgressions, and made it possible for the sinner to obtain the pardon of God. Christ was the only mediator between God and man, and salvation must be obtained through Him. The speaker closed with an appeal for all to put their trust and hope in Him, and win eternal life. "Take my yoke upon you and you shall find rest." "For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light." The sermon was one of interest throughout, and many other points than those mentioned above were advanced and presented in such a plain, practical manner that carried conviction with their utterance. At the close the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered and many participated.

The best medical authorities say the proper way to treat catarrh is to take a constitutional remedy, like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Edward Doran, a prominent gentleman of New York city, is at the Rich.

SCROFULA

Is that impurity of the blood which produces unsightly lumps or swellings in the neck; which causes running sores on the arms, legs, or face; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. It is the most ancient of all diseases, and very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. If you suffer from scrofula, try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, my little boy, three years old, being a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to feet. We all took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and all have been cured of the scrofula. My little boy is entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. R. Saturday afternoon, at his home in Richmond, Ind., T. J. (Pap) Nixon, the veteran conductor who recently retired from service on the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad, was presented with a fine gold-headed cane. The donors were men in the passenger service of the road, who, after long association with Mr. Nixon, respect and love him. The presentation speech was made by Lawyer Kline, of Richmond, who is attorney for the road. Mr. Nixon is well known in this city.

The committees on railroads and the committees on corporations of the two houses of the Indiana general assembly are jointly preparing a bill that will make a radical change in the manner of raising revenue. It is proposed to increase the tax on corporations alone so that the revenue from this source will aggregate $2,000,000 annually, and to establish a board of railroad commissioners, to be appointed by the governor, and state officers, who shall have a general supervision over all the roads doing business in Indiana. The railroads now pay taxes on a value of about $67,000,000, while they are bonded, according to "Poor's Manual," at about $400,000,000. The committee unanimously agree that the state is thus getting practically nothing from this source, and the tax will be largely increased.

Brown is the only county in Indiana without a railroad.

DR. CARL EIGENMANN has been collecting fish in San Diego for some years. It has been estimated that the volume of water poured into the Rio de la Plata exceeds the aggregate discharge of all the rivers of Europe put together. Its ordinary flow at some points is 100,000 cubic feet per second. The ordinary volume of water in the Uruguay River averages 11,000,000 cubic feet per minute.

THE interest of Mrs. Kendal, the actress, in everything relating to America, is being harped on to a rather extravagant extent of late. If it is followed much further, there may be those inclined to meet it with the remark: "Methinks the lady doth protest too much."

Attention, Attention!

The committee of the German Military Association at Fort Wayne hereby notify the public that in the middle of August next the great German Bundes-Eric gerfest will be held in our city, and that an excellent program is intended for those days, to carry out which the G. M. A. will spare no expense, in order to make it an unparalleled success.

Besides the German Bundes-Versine, all of the military regiments of Indiana will be invited to a competition drill and shooting match.

The program for the exercises will be published in a few days. One of its principal features will be a grand night manouvre, followed by a siege and capture of the city of Fort Wayne, illuminated by rockets and fire balls.

All comrades having been enlisted in the German army and honorably discharged from service, are cordially invited to join the German Military association of Fort Wayne, offering as it does, to its members, a sick benefit and funeral aid, with dues very moderate To promote a genuine sociability among the members will ever be one of its foremost tendencies. 27-tf.

WANT MORE PAY.

The Mail Carriers Circulate a Petition to be Submitted to Congress.

The mail carriers in this city, of which there are eighteen, have organized a branch 116 of the National association of mail carriers, and they will hold regular meetings hereafter in the government building, the consent of Postmaster Higgins having been given them to congregate there. The object of the organization throughout the country is for mutual benefit and at present the members are trying to have congress grant the carriers an increase of salary, the present remuneration being in their estimation below what is actually earned. The first class postoffices pay the carriers $850 a year and under this class the Fort Wayne postoffice comes. The local branch has already secured a large number of signatures of representative citizens endorsing their cause, which will be presented to congress soon. The Fort Wayne branch has been organized with the following staff of officers: President, James A. Soliday; vice-president, George Ashley; secretary, W. M. Slater, treasurer, C. M. Houser.

REFRESHED FREAKS.

The Press Dined With Gump, the Thirty-Day Faster.

The "freaks" were out en masse to-day upon an invitation of Professor Gump, to dine with him at his last meal, prior to his thirty-day fast. The professor sat at the head of the table at the Aldine. On his right sat the snake charmer, who cast bewitching smiles on O. L. Parry, who occupied the next seat. Then came Wild Ross, who grew indignant because John Dougall, of the News, divided his attention with Big Eliza. O. E. Mahler, of the Gazette, was regaling the Tatooed woman from Dakota with accounts of his thrilling adventures in Oklahoma. W. E. Davis, the dramatic correspondent, had taken charge of "Angola," the Gorilla, and was telling what he knew about dog fights, while the representative of THE SENTINEL was absorbing Col. Geary's attention with a new advertising scheme. The Journal's Freak, M. E. Burns, was on the scene, but owing to the failure of the Albino girl to arrive in time, he was too despondent to fully appreciate the luxurious spread before him. Otto Gummerow, the linguist of the Freie Presse, monopolized the time of Bess, the ossified man, by relating his knowledge of rheumatic ailments. Postmaster Higgins, the correspondent, was one of the party and as the steaming viands found refuge in his capacious stomach, he smiled serenely as he ejaculated, "Oh, what a time we freaks are having." Prior to the first course, Drs. Barnett and Heston, who will have charge of Gump during the fast, made an examination of all the freaks present and pronounced their conditions normal. This was the signal for Lecturer McClure to shout, in stentorian tones, "Bring in the repast." And what a repast it was. There were all the delicacies of the season, to which the freaks did ample justice. Mr. Gump has already started in upon his fast and he claims that he will hang on for thirty days without tasting a morsel of food. If he does this Colonel Geary will hand him a check for $1,000.

SAW HIS SHADOW.

The Ground Hog Decrees Six Weeks More of Winter.

If there is any truth in the old saying about the ground hog and the weather there is no doubt but that we will have six weeks more of cold weather, for the frisky little fellow saw his shadow. He came out of his hole early in the morning and meandered about among familiar scenes until 11:30 o'clock, when Old Sol came out from behind the clouds. When the first bright rays lit upon Mr. Groundhog's back he scampered back into his hole and there he will stay for six weeks. So it can be put down as a certainty that winter will last until the middle part of March.

A BIG WEEK.

At the World's Museum Will Commence To-night.

Colonel Geary has arranged for an excellent show at the World's museum this week. A. H. Gump has entered upon his long fast and if he is successful in doing without anything to eat for thirty days he will win $1,000.

Miss Minnie McKillop, of Muncie, spent Sunday in the city, the guest of Misses Sadie and Laura Caldwell, of Harrison street.
